1D RED IMPRIMATUR FROM THE ROYAL COLLECTION.

Imprimatur Sheets. By official regulations, whenever a plate was laid down, an impression on the same watermarked paper (see below) and in the selected colour to be used for the issued stamps was submitted to Somerset House for approval. This sheet, when approved and placed in the archives, was known as the imprimatur sheet. The collection of imprimatur sheets, in The Post Office Heritage Services, is incomplete, some sheets being missing. Some stamps (about 21 in all) have been removed at different times from the existing sheets and are in the Royal Collection and private collections. Imprimatur examples frequently show shades somewhat different from the issued stamps.

The 1d Red was the third postage stamp ever used in the world. This stamp is from Plate 104. The Imprimatur sheet was registered in June 1850. The stamps which have been removed are AA to AL, BE to BL, TL.

Watermark Small Crown

This actual stamp was previously owned by King George V & his successors, King George VI & Queen Elizabeth II.
